

The image displays four distinct woven baskets or boxes arranged on a repeating patterned background. The background features a repeating motif of stylized green and blue floral or geometric shapes on a white base. The baskets are made of light-colored, natural fibers, likely straw or reeds, woven in various patterns. Two baskets are positioned in the upper left, one in the upper right, and two in the lower half. The baskets in the lower half are larger and have a more pronounced, rounded shape compared to the smaller, flatter ones above. The text 'SCATOLE E SCRIGNI' is overlaid in blue, bold, capital letters on the right side of the image.
